

Government has called for public comment on

Amendments to the Health Act

The Department of Health calls for public comment on amendments to the Health Act which seek to make Covid regulations permanent.

You can influence the outcome.
Scan the code to have your say

